

New Tendencies on the Far-Right Scene in the Western Balkans. Mainstreaming the Extreme.

Sarajevo

Faculty of Criminology and Security Studies

18. November 2022

Agenda

16:30-17:00 Networking / get to know each other

17:00-17:10 Opening of the event

Halina Chraščová (CAMR)

Harun Cero/Ralf Melzer (FES SOE)

17:10-17:20 Introducing the project researchers

Michaela Greňová (CAMR)

17:20 – 18:00 Presenting the outcomes and purpose of the research. The importance of tracking far-right trends, activities and development

Dimitar Nikolovski (Center for European Strategies – Eurothink)

Dalibor Savić (Faculty of Political Science, University of Banja Luka, CBAP)

Richard Straka (CAMR)

Balša Lubarda (Center for Analysis of the Radical Right)

18:00 - 18:20 Impact of right-wing activities on the Western Balkans in regards to recent geopolitics

Predrag Petrović (Belgrade Centre for Security Policy)

18:20 - 18:40 Importance of implementing state level strategies to prevent and combat violent extremism and the right-wing

Jasmin Ahić (Faculty of Criminology, University of Sarajevo)

18:40 – 19:00 Growing right-wing and ultranationalist tendencies. The importance of getting informed through the media

Nermina Kuloglija (BIRN)

19:00 – 19:20 Assessing research potential and impact

Oliver Vujović (SEEMO)